All Southwark maintained schools have a similar approach to meeting the needs of pupils with Special Educational Needs and are supported by the Local Authority to ensure that all pupils, regardless of their specific needs, make the best possible progress in school. All schools are supported to be as inclusive as possible, with the needs of pupils with a Special Educational Need/s and or Disabilities being met in a mainstream setting wherever possible, where families want this to happen. Who are the best people to talk at the school about your child’s difficulties with learning/ Special Educational Needs/Disability (SEND)? How can you talk to them about your child if you need to?

These are shared with and reviewed with parents at least once each term. • Ensuring that all members of staff working with your child are aware of your child’s individual needs and/or conditions and what support best works for them in order for them to make progress. This may involve the use of additional adult, specialist support staff and individually planned work and resources. • Ensuring they adhere to the SEND Information Report and SEND Policy and that this is fully reflected in their teaching.

How children with SEND are involved in their education?

EHCP plans / Annual Reviews

Children's views are sought before the annual review and feed directly into the meeting and, therefore, their wishes influence changes to their provision and support in place. How children's views are sought will look different from child to child and will depend on the age of the child and their ability to share their views in different formats. Children might complete a 'Thought and Feelings' or 'All About Me' worksheet independently or with the support of an adult; they might be asked to share their views through pictures and photos; they might be asked to reflect on a timeline and therefore project forward their wishes for the future; etc. For pupils who are non-verbal, talking mats or other specific strategies advised by the speech and language therapists may be used.

Planning

Teachers ensure that planning reflects the needs of their class and will annotate specific adaptations for individuals and groups onto their plans. Plans are shared with adults working within the class and, through ongoing reflection and discussions, are adapted throughout the learning journey. Teachers ask children to give feedback regularly on how well they feel they are doing or whether they feel they need additional support in certain areas. Plans are also adapted according to this feedback. There are a range of methods/resources that children are able to access, depending on their learning styles and needs, e.g. using concrete materials, pre-teaching vocabulary, free-flow within reception, options for recording etc... In addition to their involvement across the curriculum and in RHE lessons, discrete Circle Time lessons are taught. It may also be considered that pupils need additional support from the ELSA within the school. The type and level of support the child has planned from the ELSA will depend on their needs and assessments and will be communicated with parents.

Target setting

Where appropriate, children should know their targets for the next steps in the core subjects and these are shared with them. As much as possible, they are involved in their target setting through high quality marking and opportunities to respond to marking built into the school day. Strategies, such as verbal conferencing between the teacher and the child to ensure pupils have actively engaged with feedback and are involved in the process.

School council

St James has an active school council that meets regularly. They listen to their peers and school council meetings provide an opportunity for all children to share their views and ideas. In the past, this has had a real impact upon school life, for example school dinners, raising money for charities and the equipment we have in our playgrounds.

School Ethos

Within school, a safe environment which nurtures expression is established. Children know that they can share their thoughts and feelings with adults in the school. Furthermore, many classes have worry/thought boxes and prayer areas, which allow children to communicate anything that may be on their minds.

We have a robust and consistent approach to bullying and cyber bullying, which makes it clear that bullying will not be tolerated. Students with SEND may be more vulnerable to bullying and harassment and so particular care is taken to ensure that they feel supported and any incidents are dealt with promptly. Additional teaching on this is explicit for some pupils who it is felt necessary for or who are identified as vulnerable and this may include additional workshops. For full information about how we deal with bullying, please see our behaviour policy.

How will the school know if my child needs SEND support?

- All our class teachers are aware of SEN and are on the lookout for any pupils who aren't making the expected level of progress in their schoolwork, with communication, socially or with physical difficulties.
- If the teacher notices that a pupil is falling behind, they try to find out if the pupil has any gaps in their learning. If they can find a gap, they will give the pupil extra support to try to fill it. Pupils who don't have SEN usually make progress once the gap in their learning has been filled.
- If the pupil is still struggling to make the expected progress, the teacher will talk to the SENCO, and will contact you to discuss the possibility that your child has SEN and discuss the best options for identifying any potential need.
- The SENCO and or class teacher may observe the pupil in the classroom and in the playground to see what their strengths and difficulties are. They will have discussions with your child's teacher/s, to see if there have been any issues with, or changes in, their progress, attainment or behaviour. They will also compare your child's progress and development with their peers and available national data.

- The SENCO will ask for your opinion and speak to your child to get their input as well. They may also, where appropriate, ask for the opinion of external experts such as a speech and language therapist, an educational psychologist, or a paediatrician.
- Based on all of this information, the SENCO will decide whether your child needs SEN support. You will be told the outcome of the decision in writing.
- If your child does need SEN support, their name will be added to the school's SEN register, and the SENCO will work with you to create a SEN support plan for them.
- The school will hold TAC meetings to discuss this with you.

How will we support your child with identified SEND when he/she starts at school?

Admissions

- We take all applications on an individual basis.
- Each child and their needs are considered on an individual basis.
- Reasonable adjustments will be made, wherever possible, if required, e.g. disabled access.
- Careful consideration is given to the most suitable class, with consideration being given to the current cohort and the support required.
- New children arriving mid-year may have identified buddies within the classroom. Contact is made with the previous school as well as visits carried out where necessary to ensure comprehensive handover of information.

Starting school

- If your child has been allocated a place in our school by the local authority and your child has a SEND, please contact the school SENCO as soon as you receive the offer of a school placement as we may not have details of your child's needs at this stage.
- We will invite you to visit the school with your child to have a look around and speak to staff and meet the members who will work with you and your child at school.
- To help your child settle more easily, we may suggest adaptations to the settling in period, but this will be agreed with you and the class teacher.

- If your child has not already visited, and if appropriate, your child will be encouraged to visit the school in advance of starting to meet the staff they will be working with and their classmates.
- Following the settling in period, the class teacher may arrange an early meeting with you to review your child's learning and progress. The school operates an open-door policy if you would like to meet a member of staff.
- The staff will then hold regular meetings in school to monitor the progress of your child and invite you into school at least once a term to review this with you.

How can I let the school know I am concerned about my child's progress in school?

- If you have any concerns, we recommend you speak to your child's class teacher initially.
- Further discussion can be held between yourself, your child's class teacher and the school SENCO to discuss your concerns.
- There are also opportunities at parents' evening to discuss any concerns you have regarding your child and TAC meetings can be arranged upon request.
- If you are not happy with support, put into place for your child, you can contact the Headteacher or another member of the Senior Leadership Team (SLT). If you are still dissatisfied after you have contacted the Headteacher, you can contact the school SEND Governor. The school complaints procedure is also on the website should you need this.

How will the school let me know if they have any concerns about my child's learning in school?

- The class teacher will raise any concerns that they have regarding your child's progress and learning throughout the year with you.
- The teacher will discuss your child's progress with you at our termly parents' evenings when you will be informed of your child's progress and any additional support being given.

- We have regular meetings between the class teacher, SENCO and senior members of staff in the school to ensure all children are making progress. This is another way to identify if your child is not making expected progress.
- If your child is identified as not making expected progress the school will continue to closely monitor this and set up support for your child and ask for your input in identifying concerns you may have.
- If your child is still not making expected progress the school will discuss with you:
 - Any further interventions or referrals to outside professionals to support your child’s learning
 - How we could work together with external agencies to support your child at home/school.

How is the effectiveness of provision made for the children with SEND evaluated?

- Observations of all staff (including for Early Career Teachers – ECT)
- Book looks
- Peer observations and learning walks
- Impact of provision on the attainment and progress of each individual is discussed throughout the year.
- Termly assessment to track progress and attainment of pupils.
- Termly pupil provision meetings with EduKey plans.
- Informal conversations between professionals.
- Specific and targeted provision is monitored and evaluated using EduKey.
- Reviews of provision with external professionals (e.g., Educational Psychologists and Speech and Language Therapists)
- EHCP progress meetings and parents' evenings.

- Annual SEND audit with those holding responsibility (e.g., SENDCo, Headteacher, SEND governor, Key Stage SENCOs and SEND class teacher).
- Annual deep dive which feeds into next actions, staff training and annual audit.
- Staff meetings and staff training.

How are the adults in school helped to work with children with SEND and what training do they have?

- The SENCO's job is to support the class teacher and support staff in planning for children with SEND.
- The school identifies training needs for all staff to improve the teaching and learning of children including those with SEND. This may include whole school training on SEND issues or to support identified groups of learners in school, such as children with ASD, dyslexia etc.
- The school delivers whole staff training to disseminate knowledge, strategies and experience, to ensure consistency of the school's approach for children with a SEND and to ensure the school follows the graduated approach model.
- Individual teachers and support staff attend training courses run by the school during INSET days, and through outside agencies that are relevant to the needs of specific children in their class e.g., from the Speech and Language therapists/ Educational Psychologists/ ASD Outreach service or medical /health training to support staff in implementing care plans.
- Individual training can be arranged for an identified staff member linked with the needs of a child with special educational needs and/or disabilities or identified through the school's performance management process.
- SENCOs access additional training to support staff and to train and support in the delivery of Quality First Teaching for all learners with SEND. This might include access to more specialised training on certain areas of SEN or a focus on pedagogies, approaches and resources for children with SEND.
- Training takes place for all teachers and support staff. If you would like to hear about the training which is currently taking place or has taken place by the staff members in the school, please speak to the Headteacher or Deputy Headteacher.
- SEND staff training throughout the year which uses both external specialists and the knowledge with the school to develop and support those working with pupils with SEND.

How will the teaching be adapted for my child with SEND, including exam arrangements?

- The class teachers plan lessons according to the specific needs of all groups of children in their classes, and will ensure that learning tasks are adapted to enable your child to access their learning as independently as possible. They are supported in this from the SENCO and subject leads as well as external training if necessary.
- Specially trained support staff can implement the teachers modified/adapted planning to support the needs of your child where necessary.
- Specific resources and strategies will be used to support your child individually, in groups and in the classroom so that they can learn most effectively.
- We are conscious of the impact that exams can have upon pupils' mental health and can increase anxiety. As a response, it is part of the school's ethos to remind pupils of developing the whole person and that academics are a part of them. We support pupils by making exams a relaxed and calm environment and one that is similar to classroom practice so it feels 'routine'. There is additional and specific support for those struggling through the school's ELSA.
- Planning and teaching will be adapted on a regular basis if needed to meet your child's learning needs and increase your child's access to what is on offer.

Exam Arrangements

- Water provided for children
- Movement breaks
- Small group environment to support children with focus and concentration where appropriate
- Support reading the paper where appropriate

Where necessary, applications will be made for the following access arrangements:

- Additional time
- Scribes
- Dyslexic friendly paper
- Transcript

How we will measure the progress of your child in school? How will I know about this?

- Your child's progress is continually monitored by their class teacher.
- Your child's progress is reviewed formally every full term, through assessment weeks and pupil progress meetings as well as at half-termly review points. Children with an EHC plan are also reviewed at termly provision plan meetings that are shared with parents. Age-related standards of attainment are given in reading, writing and maths in accordance with the National Curriculum. This is discussed as well as progress in other areas, as appropriate, such as attendance, engagement in learning and social and emotional development and communication skills.
- If your child is in Key Stage 1 or 2, but has not yet met age-related expectations against the standards of the National Curriculum, a more sensitive assessment tool may be used through the use of a provision plan with SMART targets. These will show their attainment in more detail and will also show smaller but significant steps of progress.
- At the end of each key stage (i.e., at the end of Reception, Year 2 and Year 6) all children are more formally assessed. The school's strategy for doing this is SATs tests.
- The progress of children with an EHC Plan is formally reviewed at an Annual Review with all adults, including parents involved with the child's education.
- There are a range of ways to keep you informed, which may include:
 - Home/school learning diary
 - Home/school contact book
 - Letters/certificates/postcards sent home
 - Additional meetings as required (TAC meetings)
 - Annual Reviews
 - Termly reports and parents' meetings.
 - Text messages
 - End of year reports

What support do we have for you as a parent of a child with SEND and or disabilities?

- We would like you to talk to your child's class teacher regularly so we know what your child is doing at home and we can tell you about what we are doing in school. This is to ensure that we are doing similar things to support them both at home and school and can share what is working in both places.
- The SENDCO is available to meet with you to discuss your child's progress or any concerns/worries you may have.
- All information from outside professionals will be discussed with you by the person involved directly, where this is not possible, in a report. The SENDCO will also arrange to meet with you to discuss any new assessments and ideas suggested by outside agencies for your child.
- If your child has an EHC plan, the provision plan will be reviewed with your involvement each time.
- Home learning will be adjusted as needed to your child's individual needs.
- A home/school contact book may be used to support communication with you, when this has been agreed to be useful for you and your child.

In addition:

- A Parent Liaison works at the school to support parents in numerous ways.
- We regularly hold workshop for parents of all children in the school, for example in relation to reading, phonics or maths. We will be happy to discuss any necessary adaptations for your child.
- The external professionals involved with your child will be happy to meet with you on request.
- We will be happy to consider any ideas that you may have to further support your child.

- We run SEND coffee mornings with outside professionals.
- Sign-posting to services which can support families.

If your child is undergoing statutory assessment for and EHCP, you will also be supported by the SEND team in Southwark. They, along with the school, will ensure that you fully understand the process.

How have we made this school physically accessible to children with SEND?

- Where possible our schools are accessible to children with physical disability via ramps.
- Class allocations can be adapted to ensure rooms are accessible for children with disabilities.
- Where possible our schools have designated calm spaces for children to access.
- We ensure that equipment used is accessible to all children regardless of their needs.
- Where appropriate staff will be trained to support your child's needs.
- For details and queries about accessibility plans, please speak with your school's SENCO.

How will we support your child when they are leaving the school or moving to another class?

We recognise that 'moving on' ('transition') can be difficult for a child with SEND and take steps to ensure that any transition is as smooth as possible.

If your child is moving to another school:

- We will talk with your child to identify how they are feeling about the move and discuss with them how to make it as positive an experience as possible.
- We will contact the new school's SENCO and ensure s/he knows about any special arrangements or support that needs to be made for your child.
- Where possible we will support a visit to the new school in advance of the move.
- We will make sure that all records about your child are passed on as soon as possible.
- Where appropriate, your child may be provided with a transition book to support them with the move to a new school.
- When moving classes in school:
 - You will be informed of your child's new teacher prior to the move and you will be invited to meet with them.
 - Support is taught in RHE lessons.
 - Information will be passed on to the new class teacher in advance and any Provision Plans will be shared with the new teacher.

In Year 6:

- Our SENCO/SENCO assistant arranges meetings (telephone or face to face) with new schools to discuss the specific needs of your child with the SENCO of their secondary school.
- Your child may take part in circle times in school or visit, to support their understanding of the changes ahead.
- We work in partnership with secondary schools and parents to ensure that where possible all children will visit their new school.
